HALLO APP

I have been exploring the Hallow app which was recommended to me by a priest after I expressed my struggle in finding time to further deepen my faith given my busy work and family schedule. In the last year I've found Hallow to be exactly what I needed. Whether it's starting my day with the ten-minute Daily Gospel reflections which set the tone for the day and give me something to think about during quiet moments between meetings, or the Morning Psalms, Daily Saints, or Nightly Routine, the app offers meaningful guided short prayers for any time of day. And I've only begun to scratch the surface with respect to the app's various offerings. The homilies are also thought provoking and inspirational. I still want to try the music, novenas, and Bible stories. There's even something for children. This app has been a powerful tool, one that is helping me infuse my faith more fully into all aspects of my day to day activity. I don't know how many other parishioners have discovered Hallow, but I think almost all would benefit from it. It's particularly timely now as we are entering Lent.

GIVE TO HELP THE UKRAINIAN PEOPLE

Our Polish Dominican brothers are working tirelessly to provide food, clothes, medical care, and housing in their priorities for refugees streaming across the border from Ukraine. Our brothers in Ukraine are also at work providing food and medical supplies to Ukrainians who remain in their homeland.

Hundreds of thousands of men, women, and children are in need of our support. Together, we're working to help them, and so can you!

Funds donated will be collected by the Western Dominican Province, then transferred to the Polish Dominican Province, who is administering funds for the care of refugees and for the friars still in Ukraine.

If you're inspired to also help, please make a gift as soon as possible, and join us in working to alleviate the suffering from the war in Ukraine.

God bless you for your kindness!

RETURN TO NAZARETH

BY BR. ELIAS FORD, O.P.

One of the results of our individualistic society is that families have become increasingly isolated. This isolation is sometimes justified by Catholic families as an attempt to preserve their family from a society that has become increasingly hostile to our faith and values. But such an attitude is problematic. Even the Holy Family, after the death of Herod, saw the importance of their society in returning to Nazareth from Egypt, where they were foreigners, extracted from their community. In order for it to thrive, the family needs the support of its wider Church community, and must resist the anti-social, individualistic tendencies of our society.

To understand this, consider the Parable of the Sower. The family isolated from society is like the seed cast in the thornbushes. The soil alone is not necessarily the problem— they may regularly receive the sacraments, pray together as a family, and be catechized in the faith. All of these are central aspects to Christian family life. The problem is persevering through the thorns of temptations and challenges affecting them, “the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in,” which “choke the word,” rendering it “unfruitful.” These challenges and temptations don’t just come from without, but from within. A family, isolated from the Church, can easily ignore vices growing around them, or even justify them. In my grandparents’ generation, it was much easier to deal with these challenges because parish communities were stronger. But with the rise of individualism, and the fading away of vibrant parishes, many Catholic families suffer from these thorns without the support of their community, and as a result, have struggled to persevere in their vocation, be it through divorce, crises, or members leaving the Church.

The family needs a wider community to help dig out the thorns of vice and sin to ensure the soil is hospitable to a holy family life. Once this soil is cultivated, it can be given the spiritual strength to grow and evangelize our toxic world, and yield thirty, sixty, and a hundredfold. This dependence on our neighbor is antithetical to our modern, individualistic sensibilities, but it is vital to Christian life.

GIVING: ONLINE AND IN PERSON

eGiving provides an opportunity to simplify your stewardship donations through secure automatic giving. You can pay with a credit/debit card or your checking or savings account. Schedule or update recurring donations at straymondmp.org/giving.

How can we begin fostering fruitful, robust Christian communities? Perhaps we can begin by looking at the early Christian communities described in Acts. While certain aspects of these communities may be impractical in some contexts, it is well worth reflecting on how we can be more intentional about our involvement in our parishes, not relegating it to Sunday Mass, but both actively supporting and being dependent on one another in the faith. In doing so, we can develop the strong relationships necessary to encourage growth in holiness, “bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if any have a complaint against another” (Colossians 3:13).

(Br. Elias served at St. Raymond during the summer of 2021.)

HE GAVE US THIS LAND FLOWING WITH MILK AND HONEY

In the first reading, Moses directs the people in a ritual thanksgiving to acknowledge that it is GOD who gave them their land and that the first fruits which they are to offer are products of the soil which the Lord had given them.

In the second reading, we are reminded that as we believe deep in our hearts that Jesus is Lord, raised from the dead and with God, and confess this from our hearts, God justifies, saves, and enriches all who call upon Him. It is a persistent theme that it is from God alone that all good things come, including our very salvation.

In the Gospel, Jesus, led by the Holy Spirit, goes out to the desert where Satan tempts him to betray his calling and use His spiritual power for personal gain and admiration - which Jesus rejects. We need to follow Jesus' example and not let the attraction of this world distract us from our calling to love God and to be deeply grateful for all he has given us.

Lent calls us to move beyond focusing on our own comfort and to be open to His calling to love one another, to protect and advocate for the most vulnerable and to care for earth, our "common home," which is suffering from careless use resulting in climate change.

In Laudato Si', Pope Francis reminds us that the "worst impact (of climate change) will probably be felt by developing countries in coming decades. Many of the poor live in areas particularly affected by phenomena related to warming ...There has been a tragic rise in the number of migrants seeking to flee from the growing poverty caused by environmental degradation." (LS25)

The Lenten fast can be about more than giving up candy, alcohol, or TV. For us it could be gratitude for the abundance we enjoy and being careful with our resources.

"A person who could afford to spend and consume more but regularly uses less heating and wears warmer clothes, shows the kind of convictions and attitudes which help to protect the environment. There is a nobility in the duty to care for creation through little daily actions [that] reflect a generous and worthy creativity which brings out the best in human beings." (LS211) A Lenten

"fast" can be any practice that makes us walk more lightly on our earth. Join our noon Thursday Zoom meeting during the weeks of Lent. We will be reading WILD HOPE. <http://bit.ly/LaudatoSiZoom>.

VISION STATEMENT St. Raymond Parish is a family. As disciples of Jesus, we are “children of God” and “brothers and sisters in Christ.” Jesus himself says, “Whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother, and sister, and mother” (Matthew 12:50). We welcome all to belong to our Catholic family and to inherit with us in Christ the mission to preach the Gospel as we pray-serve-socialize in His Name.

MISSION STATEMENT St. Raymond Parish is a community united by our Catholic Faith as disciples of Jesus Christ. We seek communion with God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit through ongoing personal and communal conversion to Christ and a deeper commitment to the mission Jesus gives each of us to preach the Gospel. The sacred scriptures and sacraments of the Church sustain us. We dedicate ourselves to Truth and strive to grow in love of God and neighbor as we pray-serve-socialize together, and work by grace to build up in one another and share freely with others the abundance of magnificent gifts God has given.
